OUTLOOK BRIGHT IN PLATE GLASS TRADE

Good Business May Mean Starting of the Charleroi Plant

ARE BUYING UP GLASS

Pittsburg Plate Glass Co. Said to Be Purchasing Ware of Independents

While nothing has been given out officially, conditions of the plate glass market are such as to warrant the belief that if the improvement continues, the factory of the Pittsburg Plate Glass company here, which has been idle for a year past, may be started up again. The information that prompts this statement does not come from the company itself, but is based upon conditions which are rapidly changing on account of the industrial impetus that now prevails throughout the country.

The chief reason, perhaps, which prompts the belief that the plate glass factory here may be started up is an increased demand for plate glass and a general shortage of stock. It is stated on good authority that the Pittsburg Plate Glass company is already buying glass from the independent concerns to fill their orders and that this source of supply is becoming shorter each week, as the demand increases. It is also stated that the officials of the Pittsburg Plate Glass company have given out the word that if the demand continues, there is no way out of the situation, but to start up their old factories that are down. The Creighton factory, which was idle for some time, has already been ordered to resume.

One of the reasons for continuing the factories idle that were shut down is the low price of glass. At present prices the manufacturers claim there is no object in increasing the proruction when all that they can do is to break even. Although the demand has increased greatly and is still increasing, it is still less than 100 per cent of the supply and for this reason price cannot well be advanced. As soon as the demand reached 101 per cent, prices will go up and a boom will follow in production. It is this contingency on which depends the resumption of the Charleroi factory and those familiar with the situation say the likelihood of reaching it in the near future is quite probable.

The Carrara department, which has never suspended, is so overwhelmed with orders now ,that an increased production is imperative. Some large orders have been received lately and the rush shows no signs of abating. When the factory shut down last summer a big lot of stock was made up for the Carrara department. This was exhausted by the first of the year, and one furnace was started up again to make up some stock. It was thought that this would not run very long, and that as soon as sufficient stock was made up to run the department the rest of the year the furnace would be closed again. As a matter

Note Loss Only $84

McDonald Holds United States Championship Belt For Unique Feature

The First National Bank of McDonald, which opened its doors for business June 15, 1892, claims the distinction of being so carefully managed that in its 20 years of business it has lost less than $100. In all its existence the loss of the bank of notes amounts to exactly $81. This is believed to be a record unparalleled anywhere in the United States. The bank, with a capital of $50,000 has assets of $1,500,000, deposits of $1,200,000, surplus and profits of $245,000 and the stockholders have received $79,000 or about 8 per cent per year in dividends. The book value per share of the stock is $590.

WILL BE BIGGEST CONVENTION HELD

County Officers Tell Washington County People to Prepare for Next Week

A week from today, and most of the biggest Sunday School convention in the history of Washington county will be history. Announcement has been made by the officers of the Washington County Sunday School Association that the convention will be the greatest one ever held, and the local district committee is making preparations to entertain one of the biggest crowds that ever visited Charleroi

Thursday witnessed the start of work of excavation on the site of the convention tent at the corner of Seventh street and Fallowfield avenue. This work was completed today, and the tent will probably be put up tomorrow. This year will be the first in the seventeen years of conventions that a circus tent will be used for a Sunday School gathering. It is stated that the floor will be of sawdust, after the pattern of the famous Billy Sunday sawdust floors.

One matter that is claiming attention is that of decoration. Churches will be decorated in honor of the occasion and the decorating committee has asked that the stores, and private dwellings be decorated here three days, from Wednesday until Friday. Attention has been called to the way the "Magic City" was decorated upon the occasion of the home coming of the present Governor of Pennsylvania after a certain triumph, and the Sunday School people will endeavor if possible to attain similar effects on this occasion.

EXEMPT FROM TAX

Three Buildings to Cost Approximately $200,000 Not Assessed

One of the best building periods Charleroi has experienced for years is indicated for this summer and fall. A remarkable feature in connection with that fact is that although the building operations will amount to nearly $200,000 through the construction of three handsome structures, the borough will not profit a cent in the way of taxes. The three buildings will be the new Catholic church at the corner of Seventh street and Washington avenue, the government building at the corner of Seventh street and Fallowfield avenue, and the new school building at the corner of Crest avenue and Sixth street.

According to law, church, school and government buildings are exempt from taxation. This of course means that the three stately structures to be erected will not be thus burdened. Instead at least two of them will signify a reduction in taxation.

The school district recently purchased a new school site at the corner of Crest avenue and Sixth street. This was formerly owned by the Hartupees, and was assessed it is stated in round figures at $5,000. Before purchased by the government the assessed valuation of the six lots at the corner of Seventh street and Fallowfield avenue was approximately $7,000. Taxes were paid of course on both properties until recently. Thus it will be readily seen that instead of adding to, the new buildings will in reality represent a substraction from the total assessed valuation of real estate in Charleroi.

Work will probably be started on the government and school buildings this summer but it will take many months to finish them. Each will cost in the neighborhood of $70,000 complete. The new church of St. Jerome's congregation, upon which work is now proceeding rapidly, will cost probably about $50,000, making a total of about $190,000 worth of building work in addition to that planned by individuals. While not adding to the taxation directly the three buildings will add indirectly for they will improve the town to an unreckonable extent, and naturally will result in bringing more people here to live, and to build homes.

TEACHER ELECTION CAUSES COMMOTION

By the election of a new school principal for the Belle Vernon schools the school board of Belle Vernon has aroused some commotion. The new principal is Roy Jensen of near Connellsville. His predecessor was Mrs. Minnie Riddle.

It is claimed that Mrs. Riddle has been a teacher in the Belle Vernon schools for about 12 years, having been elevated to the position of principal about four years ago. When the time for the election of a principal came up this year Mrs. Riddle was an applicant as usual. It was generally thought she would be the choice, it is stated but the school board decided differently. Jensen was elected to the job.

Mrs. Riddle was elected a member of the teaching corps, but it is stated she chose to ignore the board in this action, and told the board if they coudn't give her the principalship, they needn't bother about giving her anything. It is stated that the action of the board will stand.

The body of Jan Ribark, the triple murderer executed in the county jail last Tuesday morning, will not be turned over to an anatomical society. This announcement was made last night by persons who have become interested in the matter. The body of the dead slayer is at the McNary morgue in Canonsburg where it has been since the day of the execution and yesterday afternoon there was talk of shipping it to Philadelphia to an anatomical society if some arrangements were not at once made to provide for burial.

It is believed the matter of burial will be satisfactorily arranged today and the mortal remains of the dead murderer be saved from the dissecting table.

FALL POSSIBLE CAUSE OF DEATH

John Osborne Succumbs Suddenly--Sustained Fractured Skull 14 Years Ago

John Joseph Osborne, aged 27 years the son of John H. Osborne died at the home of his father at 232 Washington avenue Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock after a few hours illness arising from an abscess of the brain. It is believed that the abscess was caused primarily by a fall which the young man sustained when about 14 years old. Surviving are the widow and three children, the oldest of which is about five years, the father and mother, three brothers, Arch Osborne, a pitcher of Akron, O., of the Central League, Bert and Oliver at home and three sisters, Mrs. Gibson Young and Mrs. Stephen Lammey, of Fallowfield township and Miss Florence Osborne at home.

Young Osborne was employed at the Pittsburg Plate Glass Works and this week was working on night turn. He lived a short ways out of town, and was in the habit of walking in to his work. Wednesday evening he was seized with a violent headache at about the time he arrived at his father's home and was compelled to stop there. He continued to get worse until the time of his death.

When he was a boy Osborne fell from a tree, and it is said sustained a fractured skull. Violent headaches had been frequent since that time.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock conducted by Rev. E. N. Duty, pastor of the Christian church. The deceased was a member of the Christian church and an active worker in that denomination. Interment will be at Crowe's cemetery.

SUCCESS ANTICIPATED

Experiences of Other Towns and Cities Taken to Mean Much For Charleroi

With a brilliant future indicated the Charleroi curb market will be formally opened tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock. At that time many fulfill their promises farmers and produce men of the country surrounding Charleroi will line up their wagons at the curb along Sixth street between Washington avenue and the railroad and from that point of vantage dispose of their goods.

The curb market will be conducted in Charleroi's own way, which will be an assembling of ideas gained from the experiences of other towns. If the opening is successful, and there is every reason to believe that it will be every Tuesday and Saturday thereafter produce of all kinds, flowers—anything saleable from the garden or farm or orchard will disposed of at the designated pla The result will be, if the experien of other towns which have had t curb market scheme in operation for years is to be taken as any indication, a reduction in the cost of living.

On the opening day the time has been set by the curb market promoters, in order that there will not be any disappointments to anybody. Thereafter the produce men will regulate the time themselves.

Among the active workers for the curb market has been John B. Schafer, who is president of the Charleroi Business Men's Association. He said this morning:

"We have promises from a number of farmers and gardeners to bring in farm and gardenstuff Saturday. Now, we want the people to patronize this market. If they do not patronize it of course the market will be doomed. for gardeners and agriculturalist are not coming from a distance to line up there on the street for noth ing. However, we anticipate no trouble from that score, and firmly believe that within a few weeks Charleroi will have in operation one of the most flourishing curb markets in the country."

FLAG DAY.

Although not officially designated as a holiday, June 14 is becoming by common consent to be observed as "Flag Day." Patriotic Americans are urged to display the American flag at their homes and places of business, while schools and many fraternial and religious societies have special observances in honor of Old Glory.

Observed in the right spirit, Flag Day is a most fitting anniversary. A day set apart for the veneration of the symbol of American liberty is a beautiful custom, provided it is not an empty ceremony. As a mere symbol the flag means nothing, but as an emblem of the right of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness it is all in all in the conduct of human affairs. Patriotism in its fullest sense can never be realized until each individual lives up to the fullest degree of patriotic duty every day in the year. There is perhaps scarcely an American who will not [illegible] at the sight of the flag and realize that he is a citizen of the great American government, but many of us are prone to generalize in our patriotism instead of specializing. This is where we err in our civic duties. The crying need of the times is local patriotism. It is perhaps more essential to inculcate and foster the principles of borough and township patriotism, than it is to generalize in a national way. It is the atom that makes the aggregate and an aggregate of patriotic units will constitute the strongest nation in the world.

The flag stands for liberty—municipal as well as national. Patriotism like religion, is changing in its methods of application. Instead of glorifying God from afar, we are now working out our salvation by striving to do good and to help God's creatures. So it is with patriotism. By regarding the flag as the symbol of good citizenship and actively striving to live up to this ideal, we are inculcating the highest degree of patriotism. In this we do not have to generalize. We can find an ample field for patriotism here at home.

HELP THE CURB MARKET.

Charleroi housewives and citizens generally should not forget that the curb market will open here tomorrow. Starting at 7 o'clock in the morning on Sixth street, farmers, gardeners and hucksters are expected to offer for sale such products as may be available, and if the patronage warrants, this market will be continued every Tuesday and Saturday thereafter during the season. The success of the market will depend upon the patronage given it by the people

The object of the curb market is to bring the producer and consumer together. By doing so each can be benefitted. The producer, by selling his garden truck direct to the consumer does away with the middleman's profit. He can get more for his produce while the consumer, by only paying one profit, gets his stuff cheaper. As the curb market idea is a new one for this community, and as garden farming is not carried on extensively in this comunity, the plan will have to be developed. It is a good one, nevertheless, and if the people give it the proper encouragement a material decrease in the cost of living will be effected.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"I went to hell Wednesday night at the Coyle Theatre," said Hon. Edward Callaghan. "The seating capacity of the house, the ingress and egress and management are perfect, but so far as giving one a clear conception of hell by means of the films is concerned, I would say in the language of theatre-goers—with no intended reflection on the house or management—that it was 'rotten.' There was nothing 'hellish' about the pictures. Every scene and incident in the entire cast is duplicated in some part of the earth at all times.

"I was conducted through hell in a dream. The most intense agony suffered by all, even the devils, is the pain over the loss of the Beatific Vision. That man never lived or will ever live except Elias and Elijah, who could give even a faint description of what the hell of the damned really is.

"I was asked to give my impression of the exhibition. While it is the best that human ingenuity can invent, it falls far short of what hell really is. It is said and truly said that a damned soul in hell would not consider the punishment if it did not have to endure the sight of Lucifer and be deprived of the sight of the face of Christ."

"If you really want to know how time flies borrow some money," said a Charleroi business man recently. "The way to pass a short winter is to borrow $5,000 in October for six months. You will not be troubled with 'Oh, the long and dreary winter,' as Longfellow says in Hiawatha. You will find that times flies only too swiftly and that the note will be due before you're ready for it. When you borrow the money you console yourself with the thought that the world will turn entirely around at least 182 times and that many things may happen in that period, but the inevitable always does happen—the earth jumps no cogs and the note becomes due, even if business was rotten and things didn't break as you were sure they would.

"Another thing I've noticed is that if you're receiving interest it doesn't seem worth considering; but if you're paying it out the same amount seems a tremendous burden."

Consumptives Helped by Tuberculosis Medicine

It is folly to believe that Consumption differs from every other disease in not requiring the use of any specific medicine for its cure. The trouble has been that none was known until the many cures effected by Eckman's Alterative began to be realized. Now, for ten years, an enormous mass of voluntary and thankful testimonials from persons who consider that they owe their lives to this remedy have been accumulating. Surely plenty of time to demonstrate its lasting value. You can write to any of them. Here is one:

5323 Girard Ave., Philadelphia, Pa.

"Gentlemen: In the winter of 1903 I had an attack of Grippe, followed by Pneumonia, and later by Consumption. I grew steadily worse. In the winter of 1904 I had cough, night sweats, fever and raised quantities of awful looking stuff and later I had many hemorrhages; at one time, three in three successive days. Milk and eggs became so distasteful I could keep nothing down. Three physicians treated me. I was ordered to the mountains, but did not go. Eckman's Alterative was recommended by a friend. After taking a small quantity I had the first quiet night's sleep for weeks. My improvement was marked from the first. I gained strength and weight and appetite. I never had another hemorrhage and my cough gradually lessened until entirely gone. I am perfectly well. Everything I say here can be verified by my family and friends."

Do you want to sell your piano?

There are many who want to do one or the other of these things. Most of them don't know how to go about it. If they could only tell the people what they want they would be all right. If they could only let the people know without disclosing their identity that might be better still.

If you wont to buy, sell or secure any of the above, or if you want to trade anything, did it ever occur to you that the best thing in the world to do is to use the Classified Columns of the Mail.

of fact the furnace has never been able to get ahead of the demand, and it is stated that there is more prospects of starting up another furnace instead of shutting the one down that started the first of the year.

Already there is a big shortage in labor in the Pittsburg district, due to the increased production of mills and mines. Where six months ago hordes of men were seeking work, industries are badly handicapped for want of workmen. There is now a big shortage of workmen in the coke regions and many of the mines and mills also complain of a shortage. This general revival is due to an increased demand for the products of the mill and with it comes a demand for more plate glass. It is this industrial boom that may cause a resumption of the plate glass factory here.

TIE BEST THAT LUTHERANS AND W. A. CAN DO

Church Leaguers Indulge in Hot Game—Pitchers on Their Mettle

In seven innings of heart breaking tempestuous struggling the best the Lutherans and Washington Avenue Presbyterians could do Thursday night was to call their baseball engagement a draw, and determine to do it over again if possible more successfully so far as results go. Most of the reason for the unusual state of affairs was centered in the pitcher's box. J. Gray, who so they say is a member of the Gray family that Alex belongs to pitched for the Lutherans. Only Davis and Barrass got hits off his servings. Stroud pitched for the Washington Avenues and had a plentiful assortment of curves so that only three hits were secured off him.

Barrass scored for the Washington Avenues in the first inning. He contributed his single, stole second and went third on a passed ball. He came home on another passed ball. Stech scored for the Lutherans in the sixth when he singled, stole a couple of bases and trotted around on an out.

MONONGAHELA CLUB PICNICS AT MINGO

A jolly crowd composed of about 40 members of the Friday Conversational club of Monongahela, and a few invited friends, left on the 2:15 car Thursday over the Pittsburg and Charleroi Street Railway for the McAlister farm at Mingo for a day's outing. The occasion was the annual picnic of the Friday Conversational club, an event which is always looked forward to with a great deal of pleasure by the members of the club. The ladies all took well filled baskets and before their return home supper was served in real picnic style. Upon their arrival at the farm a short business session was held after which the afternoon was spent in roaming over the farm and in various picnic amusements. After extending a vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. McAlister for their hospitality the picnickers returned home.

OUTLOOK BRIGHT IN PLATE GLASS TRADE

Good Business May Mean Starting of the Charleroi Plant

ARE BUYING UP GLASS

Pittsburg Plate Glass Co. Said to Be Purchasing Ware of Independents

While nothing has been announced officially, conditions of the plate glass market are such as to warrant the belief that if the improvement continues, the factory of the Pittsburg Plate Glass company here which has been idle for a year past, may be started up again. The information that prompts this statement does not come from the company itself, but is based upon conditions which are rapidly changing on account of the industrial impetus that now prevails throughout the country.

The chief reason, perhaps, which prompts the belief that the plate glass factory here may be started up is an increased demand for plate glass and a general shortage of stock. It is stated on good authority that the Pittsburg Plate Glass company is already buying glass from the independent concerns to fill their orders and that this source of supply is becoming shorter each week, as the demand increases. It is also stated that the officials of the Pittsburg Plate Glass company have given out the word that if the demand continues, there is no way out of the situation, but to start up their old factories that are down. The Creighton factory, which was idle for some time, has already been ordered to resume.

One of the reasons for continuing the factories idle that were shut down is the low price of glass. At present prices the manufacturers claim there is no object in increasing the production when all that they can do is to break even. Although the demand has increased greatly and is still increasing, it is still less than 100 per cent of the supply and for this reason price cannot well be advanced. As soon as the demand reached 101 per cent, prices will go up and a boom will follow in production. It is this contingency on which depends the resumption of the Charleroi factory and those familiar with the situation say the likelihood of reaching it in the near future is quite probable.

The Carrara department, which has never suspended, is so overwhelmed with orders now, that an increased production is imperative. Some large orders have been received lately and the rush shows no signs of abating. When the factory shut down last summer a big lot of stock was made up for the Carrara department. This was exhausted by the first of the year, and one furnace was started up again to make up some stock. It was thought that this would not run very long, and that as soon as sufficient stock was made up to run the department the rest of the year the furnace would be closed again. As a matter

The First National Bank of McDonald, which opened its doors for business June 15, 1892, claims the distinction of being so carefully managed that in its 20 years of business it has lost less than $100. In all its existence the loss of the bank of notes amounts to exactly $84. This is believed to be a record unparalleled anywhere in the United States. The bank, with a capital of $50,000 has assets of $1,500,000, deposits of $1,200,000, surplus and profits of $245,000 and the stockholders have received $79,000 or about 8 per cent per year in dividends. The book value per share of the stock is $500.

WILL BE BIGGEST CONVENTION HELD

County Officers Tell Washington County People to Prepare for Next Week

A week from today, and most of the biggest Sunday School convention in the history of Washington county will be history. Announcement has been made by the officers of the Washington County Sunday School Association that the convention will be the greatest one ever held, and the local district committee is making preparations to entertain one of the biggest crowds that ever visited Charleroi.

Thursday witnessed the start of work of excavation on the site of the convention tent at the corner of Seventh street and Fallowfield avenue. This work was completed today, and the tent will probably be put up tomorrow. This year will be the first in the seventeen years of conventions that a circus tent will be used for a Sunday School gathering. It is stated that the floor will be of sawdust, after the pattern of the famous Billy Sunday sawdust floors.

One matter that is claiming attention is that of decoration. Churches will be decorated in honor of the occasion and the decorating committee has asked that the stores, and private dwellings be decorated here three days, from Wednesday until Friday. Attention has been called to the way the "Magic City" was decorated upon the occasion of the home coming of the present Governor of Pennsylvania after a certain triumph, and the Sunday School people will endeavor if possible to attain similar effects on this occasion.

EXEMPT FROM TAX

Three Buildings to Cost Approximately $200,000 Not Assessed

One of the best building periods Charleroi has experienced for years

A remarkable feature in connection with that fact is that although the building operations will amount to nearly $200,000 through the construction of three handsome structures, the borough will not profit a cent in the way of taxes. The three buildings will be the new Catholic church at the corner of Seventh street and Washington avenue, the government building at the corner of Seventh street and Fallowfield avenue, and the new school building at the corner of Crest avenue and Sixth street.

According to law, church, school and government buildings are exempt from taxation. This of course means that the three stately structures to be erected will not be thus burdened. Instead at least two of them will signify a reduction in taxation.

The school district recently purchased a new school site at the corner of Crest avenue and Sixth street. This was formerly owned by the Hartupees and was assessed it is stated in round figures at $5,000. Before purchased by the government the assessed valuation of the six lots at the corner of Seventh street and Fallowfield avenue was approximately $7,000. Taxes were paid of course on both properties until recently. Thus it will be readily seen that instead of adding to, the new buildings will in reality represent a substraction from the total assessed valuation of real estate in Charleroi.

Work will probably be started on the government and school buildings this summer but it will take many months to finish them. Each will cost in the neighborhood of $70,000 complete. The new church of St. Jerome's congregation, upon which work is now proceeding rapidly, will cost probably about $50,000, making a total of about $190,000 worth of building work in addition to that planned by individuals. While not adding to the taxation directly the three buildings will add indirectly for they will improve the town to an unreckonable extent, and naturally will result in bringing more people here to live, and to build homes.

TEACHER ELECTION CAUSES COMMOTION

By the election of a new school principal for the Belle Vernon schools the school board of Belle Vernon has aroused some commotion. The new principal is Roy Jensen of near Connellsville. His predecessor was Mrs. Minnie Riddle.

It is claimed that Mrs. Riddle has been a teacher in the Belle Vernon schools for about 12 years, having been elevated to the position of principal about four years ago. When the time for the election of a principal came up this year Mrs. Riddle was an applicant as usual. It was generally thought she would be the choice, it is stated but the school board decided differently. Jensen was elected to the job.

Mrs. Riddle was elected a member of the teaching corps, but it is stated she chose to ignore the board in this action, and told the board if they coudn't give her the principalship, they needn't bother about giving her anything. It is stated that the action of the board will stand.

WILL FORMALLY OPEN CURB MARKET SATURDAY

Produce Men Promise to be on Hand at Seven O'clock

Experiences of Other Towns and Cities Taken to Mean Much For Charleroi

With a brilliant future indicated the Charleroi curb market will be formally opened tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock. At that time the full fil their promises farmers and produce men of the country surrounding Charleroi will line up their wagons at the curb along Sixth street between Washington avenue and the railroad and from that point of vantage dispose of their goods.

The curb market will be conducted in Charleroi's own way, which will be an assembling of ideas gained from the experiences of other towns. If the opening is successful, and there is every reason to believe that it will be every Tuesday and Saturday thereafter produce of all kinds, flowers—anything saleable from the garden or farm or orchard will disposed of at the designated pla The result will be, if the experier of other towns which have had t curb market scheme in operation for years is to be taken as any indication, a reduction in the cost of living.

On the opening day the time has been set by the curb market promoters, in order that there will not be any disappointments to anybody. Thereafter the produce men will regulate the time themselves.

Among the active workers for the curb market has been John B. Schafer, who is president of the Charleroi Business Men's Association. He said this morning:

"We have promises from a number of farmers and gardeners to bring in farm and garden stuff Saturday. Now, we want the people to patronize this market. If they do not patronize it of course the market will be doomed. for gardeners and agriculturalist are not coming from a distance t line up there on the street for noth ing. However, we anticipate n trouble from that score, and firmly believe that within a few weeks Charleroi will have in operation one of the most flourishing curb markets in the country."

The [illegible] may be [illegible] night by persons who have become interested in the matter. The body of the dead slayer is at the McKay morgue in Canonsburg where it has been since the day of the execution and yesterday afternoon there was talk of shipping it to Philadelphia to an anatomical society. Some arrangements were not at once made to provide for burial.

It is believed the matter of burial will be satisfactorily arranged today and the mortal remains of the dead murderer be saved from the dissecting table.

FALL POSSIBLE CAUSE OF DEATH

John Osborne Succumbs Suddenly--Sustained Fractured Skull 14 Years Ago

John Joseph Osborne, aged 27 years the son of John H. Osborne died at the home of his father at 232 Washington avenue Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock after a few hours illness arising from an abscess of the brain. It is believed that the abscess was caused primarily by a fall which the young man sustained when about 14 years old. Surviving are the widow and three children, the oldest of which is about five years, the father and mother, three brothers, Arch Osborne, a pitcher of Akron, O., of the Central League, Bert and Oliver at home and three sisters, Mrs. Gibson Young and Mrs. Stephen Lammey, of Fallowfield township and Miss Florence Osborne at home.

Young Osborne was employed at the Pittsburg Plate Glass Works and this week was working on night turn. He lived a short ways out of town, and was in the habit of walking in to his work. Wednesday evening he was seized with a violent headache at about the time he arrived at his father's home and was compelled to stop there. He continued to get worse until the time of his death.

When he was a boy Osborne fell from a tree, and it is said sustained a fractured skull. Violent headaches had been frequent since that time.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock conducted by Rev. E. N. Duty, pastor of the Christian church. The deceased was a member of the Christian church and an active worker in that denomination. Interment will be at Crowe's cemetery.

FLAG DAY.

Although not officially designated as a holiday, June 14 is becoming by common consent to be observed as "Flag Day." Patriotic Americans are urged to display the American flag at their homes and places of business, while schools and many fraternal and religious societies have special observances in honor of Old Glory.

Observed in the right spirit, Flag Day is a most fitting anniversary. A day set apart for the veneration of the symbol of American liberty is a beautiful custom, provided it is not an empty ceremony. As a mere symbol the flag means nothing, but as an emblem of the right of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness it is all in all in the conduct of human affairs. Patriotism in its fullest sense can never be realized until each individual lives up to the fullest degree of public duty every day in the year. There is perhaps scarcely an American who will not [illegible] the sight of the flag and rejoice that he is a citizen of the great [illegible] but many of us are prone to generalize our patriotism instead of specializing. This is where we err in our civic duties. The crying need of the times is local patriotism. It is perhaps more essential to inculcate and foster the principles of borough and township patriotism, than it is to generalize in a national way. It is the atom that makes the aggregate and an aggregate of patriotic units will constitute the strongest nation in the world.

The flag stands for liberty—municipal as well as national. Patriotism like religion, is changing in its methods of application. Instead of glorifying God from afar, we are now working out our salvation by striving to do good and to help God's creatures. So it is with patriotism. By regarding the flag as the symbol of good citizenship and actively striving to live up to this ideal, we are inculcating the highest degree of patriotism. In this we do not have to generalize. We can find an ample field for patriotism here at home.

HELP THE CURB MARKET.

Charleroi housewives and citizens generally should not forget that the curb market will open here tomorrow. Starting at 7 o'clock in the morning on Sixth street, farmers, gardeners and hucksters are expected to offer for sale such products as may be available, and if the patronage warrants, this market will be continued every Tuesday and Saturday thereafter during the season. The success of the market will depend upon the patronage given it by the people.

The object of the curb market is to bring the producer and consumer together. By doing so each can be benefitted. The producer, by selling his garden truck direct to the consumer does away with the middleman's profit. He can get more for his produce while the consumer, by only paying one profit, gets his stuff cheaper. As the curb market idea is a new one for this community, and as garden farming is not carried on extensively in this community, the plan will have to be developed. It is a good one, nevertheless, and if the people give it the proper encouragement a material decrease in the cost of living will be effected.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"I went to hell Wednesday night at the Coyle Theatre," said Hon. Edward Callaghan. "The seating capacity of the house, the ingress and egress and management are perfect, but so far as giving one a clear conception of hell by means of the films is concerned, I would say in the language of theatre-goers—with no intended reflection on the house or management—that it was 'rotten.' There was nothing 'hellish' about the pictures. Every scene and incident in the entire cast is duplicated in some part of the earth at all times.

"I was conducted through hell in a dream. The most intense agony suffered by all, even the devils, is the pain over the loss of the Beatific Vision. That man never lived or will ever live except Elias and Elijah, who could give even a faint description of what the hell of the damned really is.

"I was asked to give my impression of the exhibition. While it is the best that human ingenuity can invent, it falls far short of what hell really is. It is said and truly said that a damned soul in hell would not consider the punishment if it did not have to endure the sight of Lucifer and be deprived of the sight of the face of Christ."

"If you really want to know how time flies borrow some money," said a Charleroi business man recently. "The way to pass a short winter is to borrow $5,000 in October for six months. You will not be troubled with 'Oh, the long and dreary winter,' as Longfellow says in Hiawatha. You will find that times flies only too swiftly and that the note will be due before you're ready for it. When you borrow the money you console yourself with the thought that the world will turn entirely around at least 182 times, and that many things may happen in that period, but the inevitable always does happen—the earth jumps no cogs and the note becomes due, even if business was rotten and things didn't break as you were sure they would.

"Another thing I've noticed is that if you're receiving interest it doesn't seem worth considering; but if you're paying it out the same amount seems a tremendous burden."

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Stanley and Mrs. Harold Foster and daughter Catherine all of Sandusky, Ohio, are visiting at the home of Rev. and Mrs. E. G. Stanley.

Consumptives Helped by Tuberculosis Medicine

It is folly to believe that Consumption differs from every other disease in not requiring the use of any specific medicine for its cure. The trouble has been that none was known until the many cures effected by Eckman's Alterative began to be realized. Now, for ten years, an enormous mass of voluntary and thankful testimonials from persons who consider that they owe their lives to this remedy have been accumulating. Surely plenty of time to demonstrate its lasting value. You can write to any of them. Here is one:

5525 Girard Ave., Philadelphia, Pa.

"Gentlemen: In the winter of 1905 I had an attack of Grippe, followed by Pneumonia and later by Consumption. I [illegible] winter of 1904 I had cough, night sweats, fever and raised quantities of awful looking stuff and later I had many hemorrhages; at one time, three in three successive days. Milk and eggs became so distasteful I could keep nothing down. Three physicians treated me. I was ordered to the mountains, but did not go. Eckman's Alterative was recommended by a friend. After taking a small quantity I had the first quiet night's sleep for weeks. My improvement was marked from the first. I gained strength and weight and appetite. I never had another hemorrhage and my cough gradually lessened until entirely gone. I am perfectly well. Everything I say here can be verified by my family and friends."

(Signed Affidavit) ANNIE F. LOUGHRAN.

Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet of cured cases and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for more evidence. For sale by all leading druggists and of fact the furnace has never been able to get ahead of the demand, and it is stated that there is more prospects of starting up another furnace instead of shutting the one down that started the first of the year.

Already there is a big shortage in labor in the Pittsburg district, due to the increased production of mills and mines. Where six months ago hordes of men were seeking work, industries are badly handicapped for want of workmen. There is now a big shortage of workmen in the coke regions, and many of the mines and mills also complain of a shortage. This general revival is due to an increased demand for the products of the mills, and with it comes a demand for more plate glass. It is this industrial boom that may cause a resumption at the plate glass factory here.

Church Leaguers Indulge in Hot Game—Pitchers on Their Mettle

In seven innings of heart breaking tempestuous struggling the best the Lutherans and Washington Avenue Presbyterians could do Thursday night was to call their baseball engagement a draw, and determine to do it over again if possible more successfully so far as results go. Most of the reason for the unusual state of affairs was centered in the pitcher's box. J. Gray, who so they say is a member of the Gray family that Alex belongs to pitched for the Lutherans. Only Davis and Barrass got hits off his servings. Stech pitched for the Washington Avenues and had a plentiful assortment of curves so that only three hits were secured off him.

Barrass scored for the Washington Avenues in the first inning. He contributed his single, stole second and went third on a passed ball. He came home on another passed ball. Stech scored for the Lutherans in the sixth when he singled, stole a couple of bases and trottedaround on an out. Score:

MONONGAHELA CLUB PICNICS AT MINGO

A jolly crowd composed of about 40 members of the Friday Conversational club of Monongahela, and a few invited friends, left on the 2:15 car Thursday over the Pittsburg and Charleroi Street Railway for the McAlister farm at Mingo for a day's outing. The occasion was the annual picnic of the Friday Conversational club, an event which is always looked forward to with a great deal of pleasure by the members of the club The ladies all took well filled baskets and before their return home supper was served in real picnic style. Upon their arrival at the farm a short business session was held after which the afternoon was spent in roaming over the farm and in various picnic amusements. After extending a vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. McAlister for their hospitality the picnickers returned home.
